WHAT ARE NASA INTERNSHIPS?

NASA internships provide unique NASA-related experiences for high school, undergraduate, graduate students, and educators. They engage students with real-world experiences while contributing to the operation of a NASA facility and the advancement of NASA's missions. Some internships pay students a weekly stipend and some a salary, but it varies depending on the center, funding organization and internship program.

Pathways Internship Program

The Pathways Internship is similar to a co-op opportunity, where current students are provided with paid work experiences and dynamic development opportunities for multiple semesters.

Pathways offers the chance to jump-start a NASA career, as it presents a path to NASA employment after program completion. Pathways internships are available on usajobs.gov

STEM Engagement Internships Program

STEM Engagement Internships provide students with hands-on, project based experiences, both stipend-paid and volunteer, that directly relate to students' academic majors. Interns work on mentor-directed tasks designed to advance projects to the next level. Internship opportunities are available for:

- High School Students
- Undergraduate Students
- Graduate Students
- Educators

Visit intern.nasa.gov for more information on STEM Engagement Internships.

* These internships are not listed on USAJOBS.
