Pre-law advising can help you to:

- Determine if law school is right for you
- Identify courses within your degree plan that will assist you to develop the logical and critical reasoning skills and writing skills necessary for success in law school
- Identify law schools to apply to based on your credentials, interests, and goals
- Develop a preparation plan for the Law School Admissions Test
- Recognize qualities that you possess and should highlight in your applications
- Polish your résumé and personal statement so that you can shine.

Pre-law advising does NOT replace the role of your college academic advisor.
