Register Now for Fall 2020

FRONTIERS OF HUMAN PLURIPOTENT STEM CELLS

Graduate (Master's and PhD) Student Course

We have developed a human pluripotent stem cell course to empower scientists with revolutionary technology. Through lecture and lab courses, students will learn the fundamental techniques and applications in stem cells, precision medicine, and tissue engineering. This allows the study of developmental mechanisms in humans and the roots of human diseases.

Email Jenny.Hsieh@utsa.edu for information