

Dear Colleagues,

As I am sure you are well aware, the arrival of the new academic year provides a wonderful opportunity to greet colleagues, to welcome new and returning students, and to set a positive tone for the year to come. The University's Roadrunner Days allow us to achieve these goals in events that are both ceremonial and festive.

Your presence and participation at these events is important. It makes the UTSA experience more rewarding and meaningful for everyone. Please support the University by participating in the following official UTSA events during the 2008 Roadrunner Days from August 22 to 29.

The events will be free, fun, and spirited – I look forward to seeing you there!

Sincerely,

Ricardo Romo,
President
