All Different. All Roadrunners.

Cultural Connections: Meet UTSA's most dynamic students, faculty & staff!

The UTSA Inclusion and Community Engagement Center will host the fourth annual Cultural Connections receptions to welcome new and transfer students who are part of the diverse population of UTSA during Roadrunner Days. Open to all UTSA students, faculty, and staff, the receptions will be in the Denman Room at the University Center, Main Campus.

Receptions are scheduled for students who self-identify as members of particular groups. These include students who are African-American and Black, Hispanic, GLBTQ (gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender and questioning), Asian, and Pacific islanders.

Each reception will include a short program with a welcome, short activity, comments from a faculty and staff members, and a student presentation. Snacks and beverages will be provided, along with displays by student organizations.

To RSVP for the Cultural Connections receptions please visit the Roadrunner Days (www.utsa.edu/roadrunnerdays) website and complete the registration form.
