Courses available for BA in Multidisciplinary Studies students:

COM 1043 – Introduction to Communication (Prerequisite WRC 1013)
COM 1053 – Business and Professional Speech (Prerequisite WRC 1013)
COM 2113 – Public Speaking (Prerequisite WRC 1013)
COM 2343 – Introduction to Mass Communication (Prerequisite WRC 1013, 1023)
COM 2433 – Editing (Prerequisite: ENG 2413; same as ENG 2433)
COM 2733 – Introduction to Communication Technologies (Prerequisite WRC 1013, 1023)
COM 3023 – Foundations of Communication (Prerequisite WRC 1013, 1023)
COM 3083 – Language and Communication Theory (Prerequisite: Completion of or concurrent enrollment in COM 3023)
COM 3113 – Argumentation and Debate (Prerequisite: COM 1043, COM 1053, or COM 2113)
COM 3633 – Professional Presentation (Prerequisite: COM 1043, COM 1053, or COM 2113)
COM 3893 – Organizational Communication (Prerequisite: COM 1053 or COM 3023; same as MGT 3123)

Restrictions:

1) Any students transferring into Multidisciplinary Studies and choosing Communication as a focus must follow the guidelines and course descriptions for the Department of Communication as listed in the 2012-2014 Undergraduate Catalog. Requests for application of the guidelines from earlier catalogs will not be granted.

2) Communication Majors, minors, and Multidisciplinary Studies students with a focus in Communication will be required to meet the “grade of “C-“ or better” guidelines for those courses as listed in the 2012-2014 Undergraduate Catalog.

3) High demand courses may have their seats limited to non-majors/minors on a semester-by-semester basis.

4) Courses required of Public Relations or Technical Communication concentration Communication Majors will not be open to non-majors under any circumstances.