Presentation: Dating Violence….Gotta Talk About It!

The focus of this presentation is to inspire the audience to make choices to live a safe and healthy lifestyle.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 2012
9:30am – 11:30am
Denman, UC

Book Discussion & Book Signing with Award Winning Author L.Y. Marlow

L.Y. Marlow is the third generation of her family to have been a victim and survivor of domestic violence: a violence that almost took her own life and the life of her unborn child. In her award-winning Color Me Butterfly, she tells the poignant and evocative story of four generations of mothers and daughters: the true story of her grandmother, her mother, herself, and her daughter; and the toll intergenerational domestic violence and abuse has had on her family for over sixty years.

She founded the Saving Promise Campaign, a national grassroots domestic violence movement to finally put Domestic Violence Awareness on the map in the same way Breast Cancer Awareness has been made a national priority.

From a lifetime of achievements, including 20+ years in Corporate America, an award-winning author, domestic violence advocate, women’s advocate and keynote speaker, what has been most inspiring is her story and timely message to raise the bar and lobby for change.

For More Information Contact:
Cassandra Porter, (210) 458-4844
Cassandra.Porter@utsa.edu