Be there...

As a friend to support.
As a bystander to intervene.
As a Roadrunner to change the culture & end sexual violence.

April Is Sexual Assault Awareness Month
On Tuesday, April 3rd several UTSA student organizations, university departments, and local agencies came together to raise awareness and educate students about sexual violence. Attendees participated in interactive games and activities. Examples of how to be an active bystander were evident. An active bystander is someone who recognizes a harmful situation, chooses to respond, and takes action to intervene or share the concern. Learn more at www.utsa/beaksup. Each table addressed a different topic surrounding sexual violence. Along with bystander intervention, the following were presented; what is victim blaming, what to do if your friend confides in you, how alcohol and drugs play a role in sexual assault and violence, how to report a sexual assault, and resources and services available to survivors. Though this is a difficult topic to discuss, over 400 attendees learned how to empower their voice and others, decrease victim blaming, and took the “It’s on Us” pledge to end sexual violence on our campus.
Chances are someone in your life has experienced sexual violence. The way you speak about the issue can make a big difference to them.

#SupportSurvivors

Sexual violence thrives when it is not taken seriously and victim blaming goes unchecked. Use your voice to prevent it.

#ChallengeVictimBlaming

UTSA Counseling Services provides a nonjudgmental and confidential space for survivors. Contact 210-458-4140 for information on how to get started.

#MyCampusMyVoice #ItsOnUs

Do you know the statistics? 8 out of 10 survivors of sexual assault knew the person who assaulted them.

#ItsOnUs

Students can report incidents of sexual assault to UTSA PD without pursuing criminal charges.

April is Alcohol Awareness Month

Responsible drinking means understanding moderation.

It’s not what you drink. It’s how much you drink that counts.

A standard drink of regular beer, distilled spirits or wine each contains the same amount of alcohol (0.6 oz).

April is also child abuse prevention month.

In 2017, there were 5,588 confirmed cases of child abuse and neglect in Bexar County. While that number is certainly staggering, it’s just as shocking to learn that only 1 in 10 sexually abused children ever make an outcry, meaning thousands more children in and around San Antonio are victims of abuse, typically by someone the child knows, loves, and trusts.

To bring awareness to this incredibly urgent issue, ChildSafe created the Cardboard Kids Campaign. Cardboard Kids are 2-foot tall cardboard figures shaped like children that represent one of the thousands of children that are abused and neglected at the hands of adults in our community each year.

If you see a Cardboard Kid around San Antonio, please read the information on the back, then take a picture of the Cardboard Kid and share him or her on your favorite social network with the hashtag #CardboardKidsSA.
If you have lost property and believe one of these items belongs to you, please contact the UTSA DPS Lost & Found office at (210) 458-4242 or visit us in the Bosque Building from 8:00 AM-5:00 PM, Monday thru Friday.
