Join the College of Education and Human Development, the Center for the Well-Being of Military Children and Families, and Col. Cedric Leighton in exploring what “cyber” means, and examining the social impacts and risks of “cyber” on technology and society.

Wednesday, March 30, 2016
6:00 pm
UTSA Downtown Campus
Buena Vista Building
Assembly Room 1.338

Col. Leighton is the Founder and Chairman of Cedric Leighton Associates and Cedric Leighton International Strategies, a D.C.-based global strategic risk and cyber risk consultant company. Col. Leighton, a distinguished war veteran, served as the Deputy Training Director for the NSA, the Squadron Commander for the 316th Training Squadron, and the Deputy Director for Warfighter Support and Integration. He also developed the Air Force - National - Tactical Integration system.

Col. Leighton is the recipient of the Defense Superior Service Medal and the Bronze Star.