2022 CAMEE Extreme Environments Conference

NASA MIRO CAMEE

CENTER FOR ADVANCED MEASUREMENTS IN EXTREME ENVIRONMENTS

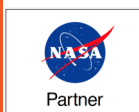

PRESENTS:

2022 CAMEE Extreme Environments Conference

We invite you to join us as our CAMEE undergraduate and graduate students present research they are actively conducting in one of CAMEE's five focus research areas (1) Exploration of planetary surfaces (2) Exascale turbulence simulations (3) High-speed compressible aerodynamics & reacting flows (4) Extreme oceanic conditions (5) Snow and ice in earth & planetary systems. The conference will consist of 5 minute research talks, a poster session, and lunch. In addition, it will be up to the audience to select their favorite poster presentations, in which the winner will receive a prize. We hope to see you there!
