

Human Health Planning Advisory – Task Force –

Dr. Kimberly Andrews Espy
Provost

THE OPPORTUNITY:

- Healthcare related jobs in SA are rapidly on the rise (e.g., 8,758 added jobs over the last five years in SA MSA)
- Growth in our health-related programs show student interest
  - Combination of STEM + Community
- Partners to collaborate in research and in health related opportunities for our students (e.g., UTSCSA, UT School for Public Health, Haven for Hope)

THE OPPORTUNITY:

- UTSA has deep and broad expertise, from science to policy
- Modern health careers require systems to address complex problems (e.g., obesity, diabetes, and opioid use)

THE OPPORTUNITY:

- Health care is increasingly moving towards:
  - Population Health
  - Precision Medicine
- This further underscores the importance of a community health approach

THE CHALLENGE:

- Our human health related programs are spread across 3+ colleges, buried in several non-obvious departments
- Negatively impacts:
  - Navigability for students, particularly first-gen
  - Visibility. Potential health community partners are not aware of our expertise or programs
  - Limits cross-cutting collaborations in research and program development

TIMELINE:

- PHASE 1 – Ideation
  - Taskforce to convene beginning in November 2018, with initial report submitted by January 2019
- PHASE 2 – Implementation
  - Begins January 2019

THE CHARGE:

- Consider the landscape of UTSA student interests, regional workforce needs and partnering opportunities, and multidisciplinary research opportunities related to human health - from science to policy (and back again)
- Recommend a college organizational structure that aligns health-related programs to enhance student success, career readiness and partnering opportunities, transdisciplinary research and funding competitiveness

THE PROCESS:

1. Survey the landscape
  - Student need/interest
  - Workforce needs of the San Antonio community and alignment with UTSA's human health related programs
  - Transdisciplinary funding opportunities

THE PROCESS:

2. Recommend realigned structure
  - Units and departments
  - Naming alternative(s)
  - Alignment with external partners
  - Benefits to faculty, students and staff
  - Risks and avoidance plan
  - Accreditation considerations
  - Short-term operation critical investments
  - Other considered models or resultant needs

THE PROCESS:

3. Proposed new structure must be:

- Student-centric
- Logical, intuitive, and centered around advancing human health from a transdisciplinary perspective
- Focused around maximizing synergies and new opportunities
- Financially viable
- Fair. Cannot jeopardize the viability of any existing or remaining colleges/departments

SUCCESS METRICS:

- Enrollment
- Retention
- Partnerships
- Funding for research and training
