As a reconciler, what am I responsible for?

• Complete reconciliations by the end of the month following the month being reconciled. Note: The Quality Assurance Review (QAR) process reviews the timeliness of reconciliations and approvals.

• Maintaining a separate expense tracking system is not required.

• The SAHARA Reconciliation Checklist is a helpful resource explaining the “Review, Consider and Focus” steps for completing reconciliations.
As a reconciler, what am I responsible for?

Step 1

Review

• Review budget transfers, expenses, revenues and encumbrances for accuracy.
• For revenues and expenses, do any corrections need to be initiated?
• Do any purchase orders or travel authorizations need to be closed?

Step 2

Consider

• Consider initiating corrections or transferring funding if available balance is negative.

• For pending purchases not yet recorded in SAHARA
  • Maintain a listing of purchase requisitions over $15,000 until a completed purchase order is generated.
  • The Large Purchase Requisition Template is an optional tool to assist with tracking.

Step 3

Focus

• Focus on cost centers/projects with negative balances.
• Focus on transactions needing corrections.
• Focus on salary expenses (reconciliation is required).
  • Salary expenses for non-hourly employees are required to be reviewed in detail.
  • Specific documentation must be maintained to demonstrate this review.
  • Documentation will be requested as part of Quality Assurance Reviews (QARs).
  • A Salary Reconciliation Template & Salary Reconciliation Training Video are available to assist with salary reconciliations.

In summary

• Reconciliations are due by the end of the month following the month being reconciled.
• Salary expenses for non-hourly employees are required to be reconciled in detail.
• Reconcilers are not required to maintain a separate expense tracking system.
• Reconcilers should be aware of general departmental activity so that significant transactions can be detected if missing.
• Departments may have their own additional procedures but those are not required by Financial Affairs or reviewed during a QAR.
As an approver, what am I responsible for?

- Reviewing revenues and expenditures
- Preventing overspending
- Ensuring appropriate accounting records are maintained
- Completing reconciliations by six weeks after month-end

Note: Quality Assurance Reviews (QARs) review the timeliness of reconciliations and approvals.

Principal investigators can be given approval roles and can approve SAHARA reconciliations by submitting a request via a Service Now Ticket.
Mass email notifications under consideration:

- Reminder emails to reconcilers and approvers with a list of unreconciled/unapproved cost centers or projects
- Emails to reconcilers and approvers when reconciliations have been reset

Each individual user can manage/suppress email notifications.
Annual Financial Certifications
As an owner, what am I responsible for?

Step 1

Ensuring all monthly reconciliations have been completed and approved in SAHARA

To view the status of each reconciliation

• Run query: UTS_SAHERA_ARA_SUMMARY
• Or, refer to the Annual Financial Certification FAQ (below SAHARA Annual Financial Certification) and reference #3

Step 2

Certifying that

- Internal controls such as timely reconciliation and segregation of duties have been established

- Transactions have been reviewed for appropriateness and allowability and that every month has been reconciled as required

- The approver has reviewed and approved all reconciliations, or delegated such review and approval for the fiscal year, and there are no misstatements or omissions in the department cost centers or projects

Step 3

Performing the certification in SAHARA

The Annual Financial Certification Job Aid found on the Accounting Services website is a helpful resource with screenshots and step-by-step instructions.

Note: Annual Financial Certifications cannot be delegated and must be performed by the owner of the cost center/project as of August 31. Ensure department manager changes are made before August. To change a department manager, complete a Chart of Accounts Maintenance Request Form.
