

STCEID
2022 Spring Seminar Series

Sponsored by Ewing Halsell Foundation of San Antonio
Seminars held from 9:00-10:00 am at the UTSA main campus in BSB 3.03.02

January 21, 2022	Role of Fractalkine and CX3CR1 Polymorphic Variants in Microglia Function in Diabetic Retinopathy Kaira Church, PhD student, UTSA
January 28, 2022	T Cells Find a Niche during an Immune Response Charlotte Vines, PhD, University of Texas at El Paso
February 4, 2022	Jesus Romo, PhD, Tufts University
February 11, 2022	Alex Rosenberg, PhD, Washington University School of Medicine
February 18, 2022	Laura-Isobel McCall, PhD, University of Oklahoma
February 25, 2022	Shahid Karim, PhD, University of Southern Mississippi
March 4, 2022	Vincent Young, MD, PhD, University of Michigan Medical School
March 11, 2022	Mylea Echazarreta, PhD student, UTSA
March 18, 2022	no seminar - Spring Break
March 25, 2022	Teresa Pawlowska, PhD, Cornell University
April 1, 2022	Douglas Lake, PhD, Arizona State University
April 8, 2022	Genetic Approaches for Understanding Fungal Pathogenesis Teresa O'Meara, PhD, University of Michigan
April 15, 2022	Mick Bosilevac, PhD, USDA Agricultural Research Service
April 22, 2022	Shumin Tan, PhD, Tufts University School of Medicine
April 29, 2022	Courtney McMahon, PhD student, UTSA
