Concentration in Learning, Motivation, and Development

The learning, motivation, and development concentration focuses on these foundational areas of the field while offering flexibility to students to select elective coursework that best matches their interests and professional goals.

Degree Requirements – For undergraduate programs, list the required/core courses, general education courses, and prescribed and free elective courses for the program, along with total semester credit hours required. For graduate programs, list the required/core courses, support courses, approved elective courses, thesis/non-thesis option (master’s) and doctoral requirements for the program, along with total semester credit hours required.

Curriculum for the Concentration in Learning, Motivation and Development:

Code	Title	Credit Hours
A. 24 semester credit hours of required courses:
EDP 5003	Psychological Learning Theories	24
EDP 5033	Human Development Across the Life Span
EDP 5053	Psychosocial Contexts of Education
EDP 5303	Educational Measurement and Assessment
EDP 5603	Psychology of Human Motivation
EDP 6103	Research Methods and Statistics I
EDP 6203	Research Methods and Statistics II

For the remaining 3 hours of required coursework, students must select an additional course in research methods or statistics from COEHD. Students should select this course based on their interests and professional goals.

B. 12 semester credit hours of elective coursework 12

Elective coursework may also be determined based on the student's program of study and in consultation with assigned advisor. Students may elect to take courses from relevant departments throughout COEHD (i.e., Bilingual Bicultural Studies, Counseling, Educational Leadership and Policy Studies, Educational Psychology, Interdisciplinary Learning and Teaching, and/or Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies) and UTSA (e.g., including but not limited to Psychology, Sociology, and Public Policy). While students may add the ABA certificate to their program, they may not use their master's degree electives to obtain the certificate. Students may opt to do a master's thesis and earn credits as part of their elective options.

EDP 6983 Master's Thesis (Permission of the Graduate Advisor of Record and thesis director required. Thesis research and preparation. 6 SCH required. May be repeated for credit, but no more than 6 hours will apply to the Master's degree. Credit will be awarded upon completion of the thesis. Enrollment is required each term in which the thesis is in progress.)

Total Credit Hours 36
