The Graduate Student Success for Faculty Excellence Initiative will deepen UTSA's abilities to recruit and retain the best and brightest graduate students to complete their degrees and pursue meaningful career outcomes.

INITIATIVE LAUNCH
November 2019

THE CHALLENGE

Across Texas and the US, the landscape of graduate education is changing dramatically in response to evolving academic disciplines, new technologies, changing workforce needs and other socioeconomic factors. Despite flat graduate enrollment over the past several years, UTSA awarded a record high of 1,467 graduate degrees in the 2018-2019 academic year. However, the university has set even higher goals in line with its strategic vision to be a model for student success and a great research university.

THE IMPACT

Graduate students play a critical role in faculty scholarship and the university's research mission. The interventions developed through the Graduate Student Success for Faculty Excellence Initiative will better enable UTSA to meet its targets to enroll 5,500 master's students and 1,200 doctoral students by 2028, and to award at least 200 Ph.D. degrees annually in support of its goals to achieve designation as a Carnegie Research 1 institution and eligibility for the National Research University Fund. Moreover, the initiative is intended to improve the student experience and career outcomes for UTSA's graduate students.
